

The Yakama Nation Library To Take Their Services On The Road

The Yakama Nation Library was recently awarded the Native American Library Services: Enhancement Grant, by the Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS).

The grant will fund the libraries Yakama Nation Library Book Mobile project which will be rolling along in early 2019.

Library bookmobiles service local communities by providing books and other materials to those who may not otherwise have access to their local library.

The Yakama Nation Library will be making monthly stops to all of the Yakama Nation housing communities, tribal head start centers and different YN events.

The YN Library bookmobile outreach will also provide access to learning devices and computers, as well as internet access and storytelling.

The library is among 20 other recipients of the IMLS Enhancement grant.

Summer's A Wrap For YN Library Multi Media Club

The Yakama Nation Library Multi Media Club (YNLMMC) wrapped up their summer with a bang.

At the beginning of August, YNLMMC continued working on documenting Yakama First Foods traditions via an interview with Yakama tribal member, Wesla Selam.

The club is currently in the process of finalizing the video which will be archived at the Yakama Nation Library.

In the middle of last month, the club provided their photography skills to take photos of the Yakama Nation Annual Backpack Giveaway.

Although they'll be back in school, you'll probably see them around fundraising for future multi media club field trips.

The YNLMMC would like to thank the Yakama Nation Museum for their support and allowing them to utilize the museum space.

YAKAMA NATION LIBRARY READING PROGRAM EVENTS

Because “Libraries Rock” is the theme of its current reading program, the Yakama Nation Library held its own “jam sesh” on Thursday, August 23rd, 2018.

Eight youth and their parents attended the event.

The event was kicked off with a reading of a children’s book entitled, “Trombone Shorty”.

Afterward, four guest musicians performed and provided the youth backing music to which they sang along to.

The children were also provided with small percussion instruments to “shake” along to improvised music by the library band.

During the Annual Yakama Nation Backpack Giveaway, the library also provided their guests with a fun libraries rock sticker activity, as well as libraries rocks coloring sheets.

Remember it’s not too late to grab your reading program log sheet to be eligible to win prizes and be entered into win three grand prizes.

The grand prize drawing will be held Friday, September 14th, 2018.

There will be another library “jam sesh” held on Thursday, September 6th, from 3:30pm - 5:00pm.

Please contact the YN Library for information about the reading program at 509-865-2800 #6.

TECH TIP

Access data

If you have existing data in a Word or Excel document, it's easy to get that data into an Access table.

The easiest way is to copy and paste. Simply copy the data in the source document, open your Access database, and press Ctrl+V to paste the data into a new table.

If you copy from Excel, Access uses the sheet name for the new table's name.

If copying from a Word table, Access prompts you for a table name and offers more options, as shown in Figure A.

When you're copying raw content (not a table) from Word, create the table first and paste the data directly into it.

Flight: A Novel

By Sherman Alexie

A story of a troubled foster teenager — a boy who is not a “legal” Indian because he was never claimed by his father — who learns the true meaning of terror. About to commit a devastating act, the young man finds himself shot back through time on a shocking sojourn through moments of violence in American history. He resurfaces in the form of an FBI agent during the civil rights era, inhabits the body of an Indian child during the battle at Little Big Horn, and then rides with an Indian tracker in the 19th Century before materializing as an airline pilot jetting through the skies today. When finally, blessedly, our young warrior comes to rest again in his own contemporary body, he is mightily transformed by all he’s seen.
